

It was a bright and sunny day. Jake and his sister Rose went to the lake with their mom and dad. They packed a lunch with grapes, cheese, and a huge slice of pie.

Jake rode his bike while Rose flew her kite. The wind was fine, and the kite went high in the sky. They saw a cute duck float on the water and a goat near the trees.

Later, they sat on a stone and ate their lunch. "This is the best day ever!" said Jake. Rose smiled and said, "I hope we come back again soon!"
