

Model Answer

Read the short story below and answer the questions that follow.

The Sunflower Seeds

Sam loved helping his sister Sarah in the garden. One Friday morning, he ran outside with his small red watering can. Sarah smiled and said, "Today we're planting sunflower seeds!" Sam clapped his hands. He dug tiny holes in the soil and gently dropped the seeds in. Then he poured a little water on each seed.

All morning, Sam checked on his garden. He couldn't see anything growing yet, but he felt proud. Sarah said, "Plants need time. If you take care of them every day, they will surprise you."

Sam nodded happily and watered the soil again. He hoped the sunflowers would grow tall and have bright yellow flowers.
