

Name: _____

Date: _____

Grammar worksheet (1) – Connectives (conjunctions)

* Connectives are words that are used to join two sentences together and to link ideas.

The words “and, but, so, because and when” are called connectives.

Examples:

1. The girl ran. She was afraid.

The girl ran because she was afraid.

2. Jack was so good in class. The teacher gave him a big star.

Jack was so good in class so the teacher gave him a big star.

3. We were hungry. We got back home.

We were hungry when we got back home.

* Notice how the capital letter in the beginning of the second sentence is changed into a small letter because the two sentences are joined into a new sentence.

A. Use the right connective from the box to join each pair of sentences. Don't forget to punctuate your sentences.

|         |    |     |      |     |
|---------|----|-----|------|-----|
| because | so | but | when | and |
|---------|----|-----|------|-----|

1. She is too young. She can't drive.

---

---

2. We can't trust him. He often tells lies.

---

---

3. I woke up late. I missed the bus.

---

---

4. She went to the mall. She bought a new bag .

---

---

5. They went to the party. They didn't dance.

---

---

6. We drank orange juice. We went to the café.

---

---

B. Use the connective "so" in a meaningful sentence.

---

---

C. Use the connective "because" in a meaningful sentence.

---

---

D. Use the connective "when" in a meaningful sentence.

---

---

E. Link the following pictures together using a suitable conjunction(s).

---

---

---

---