

Practice Worksheet

I. Tick (✓) the correct box beside each sentence.

	True	False
An infectious disease can only spread from one animal to another.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Medicines can be used to treat diseases.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
We should take the correct amount of medicine.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Vaccines are given only to people, not animals.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Student's Book p.39

2. Which of these plants has a disease? Circle it.

Student's Book p.40

3 What do you need to do to use medicines safely?

Tick (✓) the two correct answers.

Follow the instructions that come with medicines.

☒

Take a bigger amount of medicine to get well more quickly.

☐

Take medicines on your own without asking an adult.

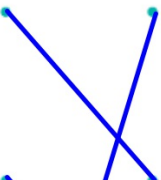

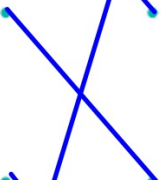

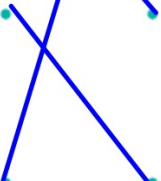

☐

Do not take other people's medicine.

☒

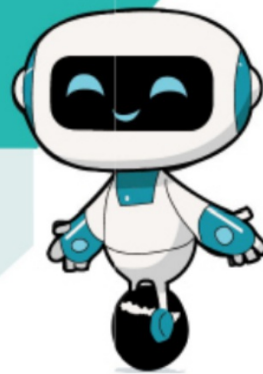

4. Draw a line to match each word to its meaning.

Student's Book p.40

word		meaning
vaccine		something that is used to treat a sick person or animal
disease		something that protects people and animals against disease
infectious		condition in which the body or a part of the body does not function properly
medicine		able to be passed from one person or animal to another

Check Your Learning

What is the difference between medicines and vaccines?

Vaccines prevent infectious diseases while medicines treat them.